

Evening Programs

7:00 PM in The Commons

All visitors, regardless of vaccination status, must wear a face covering. When not wearing a mask, performers and speakers will be behind a plexiglass barrier. Programs will be broadcast on In-House Channel 971.

“Nuts About Squirrels”

Monday, November 1st - presented by Karen Brace

Do you love squirrels? Do you hate squirrels? Do you love to hate squirrels? Either way, they're here to stay! Join us for an informative and amusing look into the history, habitat and habits of the Eastern Gray squirrel. Find out how they jump, why they gnaw and why they are just so darn squirrel-ly! Door prizes will be given out!

“Veterans Day Tribute”

Monday, November 8th - presented by Four In The Morning

From Barbershop to doo-wop, gospel to familiar favorites, Four In The Morning has been entertaining audiences for over sixteen years throughout the Commonwealth. These guys don't even need a “Hat To Drop” to burst into song! This performance will be a tribute to Veterans Day with appropriate music of various styles.

“Your Family History- Fact or Fiction”

Monday, November 15th - presented by Donna Shumate

Doing your family history begins with you, and what you know (or you think you know) about your ancestors. Donna will use a real-life genealogy case study to describe the basic steps, tools, resources, and some useful tips for finding your family history and avoiding the pitfalls of misinformation. So, join us for a genealogical journey to trace an elusive ancestor, Cesarine.

“Rock and Roll at its Finest”

Monday, November 22nd - presented by the Smokin' Fireballs

Formed in 2013 by five veteran musicians, this 5-piece band from Central Virginia will perform familiar favorites from the golden era of Rock 'n Roll: the 1950's and early 1960's.

“Fossils of Northern Neck and Middle Peninsula”

Monday, November 29th - presented by Newell Randall

Are you ready to discover the world beneath your feet? Join Newell Randall for a glimpse into his Marine Fossils exhibit at the King and Queen Tavern Museum. He will share pieces from his extensive collection and his knowledge on fossils.
